

"We use the Silver Service by medentex to be compliant with EPA regulations!"

The Silver Service is your one-stop shop solution for amalgam recycling

Are you compliant?

Dental clinics are the main source of mercury discharges to publicly owned treatment works, amounting to 5.1 tons of mercury and 5.3 tons of other metals each year, according to EPA estimations. New EPA regulations as of December 2016 require all dental offices to install an amalgam separator and responsibly recycle their amalgam waste with a certified company.

medentex offers you a unique one-stop shop solution

That is why we created our Silver Service which combines compliant amalgam waste recycling with first-class service. As a part of this service, your office will receive a box with the materials you need to be compliant while we will take care of the rest. Depending on the size of your practice, the box will be exchanged once or twice a year. We will handle the exchange intervals and organize the collection – safe and trouble-free.

Choose the experts medentex is a globally operating company headquartered in Bielefeld, Germany, which has specialized in the professional and compliant disposal and recycling of dental waste. We have been supporting dentists for more than 30 years with hands-on solutions, ranging from reliable waste disposal management to amalgam separation. medentex is officially authorized to collect and transport dental waste across country borders and the processing is performed at our German recycling facility.

-  Amalgam separator cartridge, waste containers and capsule bag all in one box
-  Everything you need to be compliant at an attractive price
-  Recycling, recycling certificate and return shipping included with every Silver Service package
-  Your air-water separator may already be compatible with our amalsed® Silver cartridge

The medentex Silver Service process

Are you compliant?
Call for a free consultation today
and find out!
(888) 640-2527,
info@medentex.com